Style refers to a person's particular way of expressing themselves—whether that's through clothing, writing style, or a style of architecture. In the fashion world, "style" is usually shorthand for "personal style," or the way an individual expresses themselves through aesthetic choices such as their clothing, accessories, hairstyle, and the way they put an outfit together.

Fashion vs. Style: Key Differences Between Fashion and ...

Style. On the other hand, style is something that is permanent and timeless. Style is your own and not guided by fashion really. While fashion pertains only to clothing and accessories, style is not dependent upon clothing and can be associated with anything that makes you look stylish. So style is something that is one's own while fashion is adapting to what is in at the moment. Style is an extension of fashion as you can use what is in fashion and incorporate it in your own ...

Key difference: Fashion is what is currently in fashion right now, that is, what is being featured in magazines, on TV and on the fashion runways. Fashion is what is trendy right now. Style, on the other hand, is unique to everyone. This is the person's own opinion, their own choice in clothes and accessories. Style is something that has been modified and customized on an individual level to suit each person's own personality and body.

I'm prompted to write about the real difference between fashion and style after reading a piece in Melbourne's Saturday Age newspaper entitled "Maybe it's time for a change of gear in fashion's fast lane" written by sociologist Dr Ruth Quibell. Dr Quibell proposes that the pace of fashion is so fast now that keeping up is nigh on impossible (citing mega chains like Zara, whose ...

Style. Style is the way in which something is written, as opposed to the meaning of what is written. In writing, however, the two are very closely linked. As the package for the meaning of the text, style influences the reader's impression of the information itself. Style includes diction and tone. The main goal in considering style is to present your information in a manner appropriate for both the audience and the purpose of the writing. Consistency is vital. Switching styles can ...
